Take it from Here

Despite advertising claims of cigaret manufacturers that their individual product is the best yet, cigaret smokers are often described as hammering nails into a coffin.

According to a bit of "propaganda" released recently by the National Tobacco Tax Research council, Richmond, Va., smokers in Dixon are pounding away at the rate of about 26 nails a day.

The council estimated 1,633,000 packs of cigarets were sold to Dixon smokers by local merchants last year and that 30 per cent of the city's population of about 11,700 have the habit.

This would indicate approximately 3,500 Dixon smokers are puffing on about 32,600,000 cigarets annually. Talk about smoker's "hack!"

* * *

The research council is interested in seeing that smokers are able to fill their lungs at popular prices. They fear Illinois cities will levy a cigaret tax.

This was made possible during the recent legislative session, presumably to alleviate municipal revenue-raising problems in view of state mandatory minimum wages for fire and police personnel.

Now cities can levy an additional one-cent tax on every package of cigarets sold within corporate limits, adding to the 11-cent tax levied by state and federal governments.

* * *

State and federal excise taxes paid on cigarets in Dixon last year amounted to $179,000. city tax would up that to $195,000 yearly, the council contends.

This will come as support to an idea expounded by some of our city fathers that a cigaret tax would not be popular here.

Councilmen claim it would cost too much to install such a tax system and it couldn't net enough in city revenue to warrant a municipal cigaret levy.

* * *

The research council said "it is a demonstrable fact that where municipal cigaret taxes have been imposed, as high as 50 per cent of the smokers evade the tax by purchasing their cigarets in the fringe area, beyond city limits.

"It has also been demonstrated," the council claimed "that a substantial percentage of other items purchasable where cigarets are sold is diverted to fringe area merchants who pay no taxes to the municipality imposing the cigaret tax."

* * *

Dixon merchants last year had a retail dollar volume from cigaret sales amounting to $352,000. A loss of 50 per cent of this business amounts to $179,000.

If to this is added $36,000 volume loss on other items which accompanied cigaret trade losses, a total of $215,000 in total sales volume may be driven out of the community, the council warns.

"Kansas City, Mo., by admission of one of its city officials, loses 59 per cent of its cigaret business to merchants outside the city limits," the council reported.

In and around Chicago, 15 municipalities are considering a cigaret levy as permanent revenue, the council added. A survey disclosed these cities want to collect $200,000 in cigaret taxes.

"They may drive $6,900,000 of business out, depriving local merchants taxable sales volume far in excess of the benefits to be gained from the cigaret tax," tax researchers asserted.

* * *

A municipal cigaret tax is an economic evil, the council said, discriminating against 50 per cent of the people, the cigaret smoker. They are asked to pay taxes to a community whose entire population benefits therefrom.

The tax researchers urged "if you are interested in preserving the stability of your local economy and of promoting sound fiscal policy in your local government, do everything in your power to prevent the adoption of a municipal cigaret tax in your community."

For a while there, I was thinking about switching to a pipe entirely. But who wants a depression!

Seven Youths Fined After Melon Raid

Amboy High Football Players Among Those Facing Court Hearing

Five Amboy high school football players were each fined $5 and costs today after pleading guilty to a charge of trespassing on a melon patch owned by an Amboy resident.

They are Edwin North, Dan Kellen, David Adwell, all juniors at Amboy high school; Charles Koch and Richard Montavon, both seniors.

A sixth member of the melon patch raiding party, football player Arnold Scudder, a junior, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct. Robert Pryor, Amboy, was also fined for trespassing.

The seven boys were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Sterling Schrock, Dixon, after warrants for their arrest were signed by James Tait, Amboy.

Tait charged that the boys trespassed on his melon patch property in Lee Center township, consuming a number of melons.

John Stouffer, chief deputy, Lee county, said today that the boys raided the melon patch after football practice Thursday evening.

Investigation by Stouffer led to the identity of the youths. They were informed that they were wanted by the Lee county sheriff's office and voluntarily gave themselves up, Stouffer said.

This is the second incident in the last few weeks involving the arrest of teenagers found trespassing in county melon patches.

Two others were each fined $25 and costs when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lawrence Boos, Dixon. In addition, they suffered .22 caliber bullet wounds when caught in the act by a property owner.

Here, McCarthy talks to reporters at news conference in Washington.

Spellman Guilty On Check Count

Zick Sentences Rochelle Grain Dealer to Prison

OREGON, Ill.—(AP)—A guilty verdict on a fraudulent check charge was returned against Francis Spellman, jr., Friday by an Ogle county Circuit court jury.

Spellman, a Rochelle feed and grain dealer, was sentenced to a year in prison and fined $1,000 by Judge Leon A. Zick.

However, Judge Zick granted Spellman's attorney, Wayne Wilson, a request to have Spellman's $2,500 bond continued pending possible appeal.

Spellman also is free on bonds of $2,500 each on two other fraudulent check charges.

The trial, which began Tuesday morning, proceeded after a federal court ruling in Chicago Sept. 3 before U. S. Judge Joseph Sam Perry barred prosecution of Spellman on a charge in connection with Commodity Credit Corporation, corn thefts.

At the Chicago hearing, Judge Perry ordered Ogle county authorities to delay proceedings against Spellman until he has served a five year probation on a federal charge based on the corn thefts.

The probation was ordered for Spellman by Judge Perry last Dec. 27 and another probation period for 1-3 years for Spellman's brother Joseph.

They had pleaded guilty to a federal indictment charging conversion of $150,000 worth of government corn to their own use. Ogle county authorities then indicted the pair on a larceny charge.

All but Justice Frankfurter of the Supreme Court attended as honorary pallbearers.

Search Lake For Airman After Storm

Believe Sabre Jet Crashes in Waters Of Lake Michigan

CHICAGO (AP)—Coast guardsmen searched in Lake Michigan today for an air force F86 Sabre jet fighter plane believed to have crashed Friday night during a thunderstorm.

A second plane of a flight of four from George Air Force base, Victorville, Calif., crashed on a farm about 35 miles southwest of Chicago. The pilot, 2nd Lt. Rudy J. Koch, 23, of Cincinnati, who bailed out at 10,000 feet, suffered a sprained left ankle.

The two other jets landed safely at O'Hare field, northwest of Chicago near suburban Park Ridge.

Koch said all four planes, which had stopped at Lowry air base, Denver, yesterday afternoon, were low on fuel as they ran into a thunderstorm nearing Chicago.

Spokesmen at O'Hare said they could not say definitely that the missing plane crashed in Lake Michigan but it was "possible."

McCarthy Plans Army Showdown

Hearings Designed to Clear Him of Revealing Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he plans public hearings designed to show whether he was justified in releasing an intelligence report which the army had labeled a "restricted" document.

The senator told newsmen the hearing will be held before the senate investigations subcommittee which he heads, but he did not say when.

McCarthy contends he made the report public Wednesday because it contained "clearcut Communist propaganda." But the army said in a statement Friday that McCarthy had withheld sections of the report which made it obvious the document was not Communist propaganda.

Violated Law

Besides, the army said, releasing any of the report disclosed information affecting national defense "within the meaning of the espionage laws."

The army statement did not mention McCarthy by name or any plans to try to prosecute him—an action that seemed unlikely in these circumstances. But it said of the document:

"The transmission or revelation of its contents in any manner to any unauthorized person is prohibited by law."

Unauthorized disclosure of material bearing such classifications as "restricted," "secret" and so on is punishable by up to 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

The criticized report was declassified Friday by the army because of its prior disclosure.

"No Choice"

"I have no choice but to go ahead and expose it publicly," McCarthy said in telling reporters he expects to hold public hearings on the issue before his subcommittee.

"Of their intimation that there was something wrong with exposing this propaganda," he said, "they are not going to hide any Communist propaganda or Communist behind a label of 'restricted.'"

GM Wins Bid For Army Tanks

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The Army has declared the Fisher body division of General Motors Corp. successful bidder on a 200-million-dollar contract for "Patton" medium tanks.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens said yesterday the General Motors bid was about 12 per cent lower than one by the Chrysler Corp. Both motor companies have been producing the tanks, officially designated M48.

The Army said Chrysler would continue building M48s at Newark, Del., until April 1954 and afterwards would keep its tools in "package storage" so as to resume production "quickly if necessary." Stevens said Chrysler would continue under a separate contract to design the M48.

The secretary also said contracts amounting to 85 million dollars for 2½ ton trucks had been awarded to General Motors. He said contracts totaling 61 million dollars for similar vehicles went to Reo Motors Corp.

Colombia's Costly 4-Year Guerrilla War Is at End

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—A bloody four-year guerrilla war against Colombia's Conservative government reportedly has ended with the negotiated surrender of most of the insurgents. The fighting caused an estimated 5,000 deaths and millions of dollars damage.

Reliable informants said Friday night 1,500 guerrilas surrendered this week to armed forces Commander Brig. Gen. Alfredo Duarte Blum in the Eastern Plains district around Monterrey. Earlier, 600 gave themselves up at Tauramena, according to the newspaper El Spectador.

Most of the guerrilas were Liberal party politicians and sympathizers. They began their battle in 1949 after accusing the Conservative party of trying to intimidate them in a presidential election won by former Chief Executive Laureano Gomez. The Liberals boycotted the voting.

A former Liberal acting as intermediary said the surrendered units made up 25 per cent of the dissident force. He added that their chief, Guadalupe Salcedo, who ordered the surrender, had promised he would try to send in the remaining stragglers in the next few days.

Negotiate in June

Negotiations to end the fighting were begun last June after Gomez was overthrown and exiled in a bloodless coup led by Army Chief Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla.

A Liberal spokesman said about 1,000 persons were killed in the actual fighting but another 4,000 died as a result of reprisals, inadequate medical care and starvation.

Committee Testimony Is Revealed

3-4,000 Others Are Fellow Travellers, Ex-Communists Say

WASHINGTON (AP)—Once secret charges that Communists successfully infiltrated American churches today were spread in open files of a congressional investigation.

One witness said 600 U. S. clergymen are "secret" members of the Communist party and three to four thousand others are in "the fellow-traveling category."

The House Un-American Activities Committee, which resumes its sessions late this year or early in 1954, made public the detailed testimony Friday.

Bored Within

It came from former active Communist leaders and told of how the Reds, unable to destroy religion by frontal assaults, bored from within to seek their goal with the aid of unwitting dupes and pawns.

One witness, Manning Johnson of New York, said not even the Reds themselves expected to achieve the success he said they realized.

Another, Benjamin Gitlow of New York, testified: "In the infiltration of the Methodist church, the Communists were highly successful."

A third, Joseph Zack Kornfeder of New York, called the fifth column plan "rather effective."

Johnson was described as a Communist from 1930 to 1940 and a member of the party's national committee from 1936 to 1938; Gitlow as a top U. S. Communist leader from 1919 to 1929, and Kornfeder as a Communist from 1919 to 1934.

Testified In July

They testified last July at committee meetings in New York. The meetings, not open to the public, were called ostensibly to investigate communism in the New York area. However, the hearing transcript disclosed the subject of communism in religion was considered exclusively.

Kornfeder estimated there are 600 clergymen in the United States who are "secret" members of the Communist party. He said between three and four thousand others are "among the follow-traveling category." Many more, he said, were duped into aiding Communist fronts, but "the temporary sympathizers will fade out."

In the Catholic church, Kornfeder said, the infiltration "is mainly among laymen." He commented that Communists "had some experience trying to line up the Catholic priests and, well, something usually happened pretty quickly. . . ."

Tells Of Efforts

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) of the Senate internal security subcommittee revealed yesterday that his group had information of "an effort to establish a Communist cell in Catholic organizations."

Jenner cited testimony given here in June by two witnesses described as "active participants" in such an attempt. Senate sources indicated the try at Catholic subversion was made some 10 or 15 years ago and failed.

In testimony before the house group, Kornfeder named Harry F. Ward, former professor at Union Theological seminary, New York, as leader of a plan to communize clergymen through the Methodist Federation for Social Service. This is an unofficial organization not connected with the Methodist church.

In New York Friday night, Ward denied the testimony about him as "completely false."

Gitlow also named Ward as a minister who "carried out the instructions of the Communist party or collaborated with it."

"Key Figure"

But Gitlow said "the key figure" for the Communists in the religious field was "Robert W. Dunn, head of the Labor Research associa-

Modern Techniques Can Conquer Washday Blues

New automatic dryer with four-way control claims to answer all drying needs. Besides tumble drying ordinary clothes with heat, dryer can also tumble dry without heat, delicate fabrics being dried with warm or heated air. The girl above is hanging knitted wool socks and baby shawl on the adjustable rack which fits stationary cylinder.

If you're looking for automatic elp with the week's wash, ere are several new man-made ervants bidding for the business. any offer improvements designed answer homemakers' com-aints.

A new automatic dryer, for example, makes a four-way bid to olve all our drying problems with-it scorching, shrinking or other-ise harming the fabrics. Clothes an be tumble-dried by heat alone by room temperature air gently own over them. With this selec-on to dial, makers claim we can y everything from heavy bath wels to sheer knitted garments d pillows.

When clothes are dried without umbling, there's an adjustable ack that holds garments in the ylinder. Further protection of brics is offered by the automatic ermostat that cuts off heat at 140 egrees.

Another new dryer is a space-aving, 24-inches-wide machine de-gned for apartments, trailers or mall utility rooms. The electric ersion of this dryer is on casters. handles an eight-pound load of ry clothes (16 wet) which com-ares favorably with larger dryer oads. Maximum heat obtainable 170 degrees. This machine pairs p with an automatic washer, and oth are less expensive than stand-rd-sized equipment.

The degrees of dryness of the lothes controls another new dryer. When the exhaust air drying the oms reaches 185 degrees, clothes re supposed to be bone dry, and ne machine switches off. You can et it for damp dry, too. This one s a gas burner which can handle ny type of gas.

All the new dryers I saw automatically shut off when the loading door is opened, and all have extra-large lint traps. At these prices, which range from $200 to $300 and up, clothesline manufacturers don't have too much to worry about. But every time I snatch the clothes off the line in the teeth of a thunderstorm, I drop a few more pennies in the piggy bank marked "dryer."

News in washing machines is a smartly styled semi-automatic which has many features boasted by more expensive automatics. A single dial is set by the operator to control washing, rinsing and spin-drying. The filler hose attaches to any mixing faucet, and you regulate the water temperature. A two-direction pump permits re-use of wash water, a considerable saving of hot water and soap.

As I completed my laundry equipment room check, I saw one very expensive, super de luxe model which boasts improvements on improvements. Only thing that spoiled the demonstration was that the machine wouldn't run. And nowhere could I find a machine that will sort, fold and carry the clothes upstairs after they're laundered — but I'm sure it's on a designer's drawing board now.

Make Posts Strong

Suggested is a simple and neat technique for applying a wood preservative, such as creosote solution, to fence and porch posts before they are placed into the ground.

Fill a galvanized steel pail about half full of the liquid preservative. Place the lower end of the post in the pail, so it can absorb some of the preservative around it.

The upper portion of the post projecitng above the liquid's level in the pail can be covered with a paint brush.

Then remove the wet post from the pail and place it on a thick, absorbent pad of old newspapers so that drippings will be confined to a safe area. Wood preservatives are difficult to remove from floors and can damage lawns.

Keep 'em Unlocked

Keep yor children from locking themselves in the bathroom or other rooms with a cleverly designed rubber shield made out of an old inner tube. Cut a strip of rubber from the tube long enough to stretch around the door from knob to knob. It will cover the latch and keep the door from clicking shut. Cut a hole in each end of the strip so that it can be fitted over both knobs.

Girls! Protect Yourself When Tackling Jobs

By VIVIAN BROWN

IF YOU ARE GOING to do it yourself, consider your beauty. It might suffer unless you refrain from rushing headlong into your project by taking proper grooming precautions.

Here are some charm pointers for homemakers who are handling tools, pigments and polishes:

1. Before you start working at any home chore, wrap a towel around your hair to protect it from fumes and grease.

2. Wear an outfit that you don't mind having mussed up. Blue jeans are perfect.

3. Wear cotton gloves for moving heavy articles, sawing wood and carrying pails. Rubber gloves should be worn when painting, wallpapering or refinishing furniture.

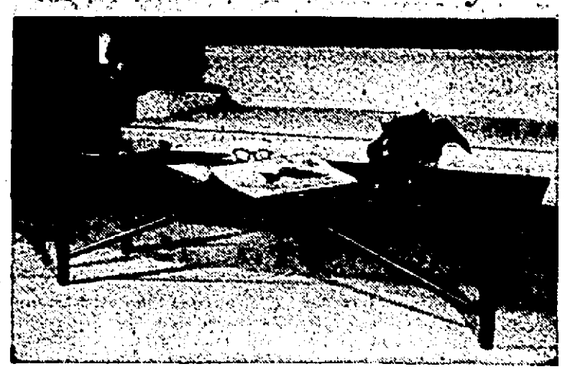
4. Before you paint, dig your nails into a cake of soap and apply a coat of hand lotion to keep paint from penetrating into skin cracks while you work. This is a good idea even if you wear rubber gloves.

5. Never use your hands in place of tools. Don't try to remove a tack or nail or staple with your fingers. It is a simple matter to pull these things out with hammer or other tool. And don't bite wire ends or other things instead of using the pliers.

Apply lotion or cream before and after working in the home whether you use gloves or not. Rub it well on the backs of the hands where there is a scarcity of oil glands, we are told. Work it around the nails, too, to keep the cuticle soft and help prevent splits and hangnails.

Clean paint brushes carefully with turpentine or other paint thinner. Give them a sudsy soap, soap and water bath and wrap in cellophane, sealing the edges with tape.

Don't Be Table Shy



Four tables form the perfect balance for comfortable convenient living... to make your entertaining easy and gracious. Later, as your home and needs grow, you'll want to add more tables to supplement the decorative beauty and comfort of your room.

Start with these four—a cocktail table, an end table, a step table and a nest of tables—these are the indispensable essentials for an inviting, livable room.

The sleek distinguished cocktail table shown is from "The Circa 60" group. Made of walnut, this table has a center drawer for cards, napkins or coasters. Table is part of a completely correlated group which forms a decorative background for contemporary living. (Heritage-Henredon).

Siding New House? Three Factors Can Determine Success

If you're planning to build a house, you have many things to consider. Among them are three factors which can spell the success or failure of your construction venture—foundation, framing and siding. Good materials and craftsmanship here are mighty important.

Since siding "shows," it is of more than passing interest to the owner. In siding, he wants such things as nice appearance, long life and as little maintenace as possible. A material that meets these qualifications recently was placed on the market as a packaged siding. It is masonite siding, made of tempered presdwood, an all-wood panel that has proved itself over a quarter-century under all weather conditions.

Masonite siding comes in widths that are ideal for ranch style houses—12, 16 or 24 inches. These widths are inexpensive, and they add greatly to the appearance, used as lap siding with shadow strips. Of course, masonite siding can be used as panel siding, too, with attractive batten strips for a nice architectural effect.

Countless builders are turning to this siding because it is economical in first cost, in application and in upkeep. Its smoothness and high density make masonite siding an ideal base for paint. The absence of grain and knots gives it unusual paint-holding qualities—meaning that you have fewer repainting jobs.

Business Center Found in Homes

Homemaking is a "business," and it could be kept in a more businesslike manner if there were a desk and files. Every family needs such a center for the household's business operations.

You needn't even purchase a desk. Just take a couple of old filing cases add a piece of smooth-surfaced masonite presdply, three-quarters of an inch thick, for a top, and your "home office" is practically ready for use.

Presdply is a versatile panel which is unusually strong. Its smooth surfaces of tempered presdwood are long-wearing—so tough, in fact, that many factory workbenches are covered with it. The surface may be treated with a penetrating sealer or varnish; if you like, it may be primed and painted.

In putting this simple desk together, have the presdply cover both filing cases, leaving a 24-inch space as leg room. Drill holes in the tops of the cases—one at the front and back of each, at the extreme outer edges—and fasten the top by applying wood screws from underneath. Wood molding, available at the lumber yard that furnishes the top, may be attached with finishing nails around the edges of the top. Varnish, stain or paint the molding.

Washing Kitchen

Washing the kitchen walls will yield more satisfactory results if you wash from the bottom up, thus avoiding the hard-to-remove streaks caused by water dripping down a soiled surface.

Garbage Cans

Garbage cans, both indoor and outdoor varieties, need a weekly hosing and sun drying to keep them fresh during hot weather. Dump soap and a disinfecting solution into the cans.

UN Secretary General Acts Wisely in Security Firings

UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold acted with wise attention to the realities when he refused to rehire four employes of the Secretariat who had been dropped on loyalty charges.

Their reinstatement, with back pay, had been ordered by a UN administrative tribunal. This body also had directed payment of an indemnity to seven other dismissed employes who refused reinstatement.

The discharged individuals had declined to testify satisfactorily before congressional committees investigating communism among Americans at the UN. Most had invoked the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, refusing to answer questions about possible Communist affiliations on the ground they might thus tend to incriminate themselves.

The UN tribunal which heard their appeals decided this refusal alone was not sufficient evidence of misconduct or unsatisfactory service to warrant dismissal. It pointed out further that UN staff regulations recognize the right of staff members to adhere to their political opinions, whatever their nature.

This rule is perhaps inescapable in an international body which must draw its personnel from both Communist and non-Communist nations. But it is a mistake to apply it in a narrow, legalistic way to the citizens of the United States working for the UN.

We enjoy a unique status as the host country of the UN. We have a natural and proper concern for the security of the nation. And since we regard Communists not as mere political partisans but as conspirators against our government, we cannot view indifferently the existence of Red cells anywhere.

These particular Americans were not working for the U. S. delegation to the UN. They had nothing to do with American policy-making, nor did they have access to U. S. secrets at any level.

Nevertheless, in working for the Secretariat they had the cover of respectability and the convenience of a choice nesting spot close to the flow of important information. To allow their continued presence there would seem only to flout needlessly the legitimate purposes of American security authorities, without noticeably enhancing the stature of the Secretariat.

• • •

To prove its universatility the Secretariat may have to hire Russian or satellite Communists. But it does not have to hire American Reds.

Some think it regrettable that at a time of heightened world tensions the UN headquarters stands within the geographic borders of one of the two great rival powers. The magnified security problems clearly hinder growth of an independent Secretariat, and the situation is an embarrassment to the host country.

Thrust into this delicate dilemma, Hammarskjold took the sane course. He accommodated the UN Secretariat's hiring policy to America's reasonable concern for its own safety. He understood that this would do the UN much less harm than would his clinging to a rule that appeared to defy this urge to security.

Takes Expert to Play This Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY

There are said to be some 30 million bridge players in this country, but only a few thousand of them would make the correct play in today's hand. The average player's first step, when he is declarer, is to draw trumps. Perhaps 50 million Frenchmen can't be wrong, but 30 million bridge players certainly can.

When West opens the jack of hearts, South cannot afford to lead even a single trump. If he does, East will take the king of trumps and lead another heart. This takes away South's remaining high heart and now South cannot prevent the loss of two trumps, a heart and a club.

It is really quite easy for South to see this all coming, and he should therefore make plans to prevent it. The only way to avoid the loss of a heart trick is to establish dummy's clubs immediately in order to obtain a discard.

South therefore wins the first trick with the king of hearts and immediately returns the jack of clubs. West takes the ace of clubs and leads another heart, forcing out South's ace. Now South leads a club to dummy and gets rid of his losing heart on dummy's extra club. (If West has refused the first club trick, South can get to dummy with the king of diamonds in order to obtain his discard on the third club.)

Only after South has discarded his losing heart can he afford to lead a trump.

CARD SENSE

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Double	?

You, South, hold: Spades 5-3, Hearts K-6-3-2, Diamonds Q-J-5-2, Clubs 7-6-4. What do you do?

A—Bid two diamonds. This raise behind thet double is a mild preempt, showing good trump support, a short suit on the side, and perhaps 7 or 8 points altogether.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spade 5, Hearts K-6-3-2, Diamonds Q-J-9-5-2, Clubs 7-6-4. What do you do?

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — It may or may not be the influence of vintage movies on TV, but public interest in stars of yesterday, from five-year-old Susie to great-aunt Matilda, is a a new high.

As he watches an oldie from the prohibition era, Junior is forever asking dad whether the fellow in the straw hat is still alive and grandpa, peering at a 1928 belle in skirts above her knees, is apt to mutter, "Now there's a familiar ankle, by heck."

To answer questions from readers about some of the stars who are once again doing their stuff, this time via TV, and about stars who have dropped out of sight, here is a run-down of Who's Where?:

Enid Bennett, one of the silent era's most beautiful stars, is a reader in a Beverly Hills Christian Science church. . . . Lois Moran, of "Stella Dallas" fame, has come out of retirement and recently completed a TV pilot film, "Waterfront," in which she plays Preston Foster's wife.

BECAME A DIRECTOR

GASTON GLASS, a big heartthrob in the twenties, is an assistant director at Fox. . . . Juanita Hansen, a serial queen who ranked with Ruth Roland and Pearl White, left the flicker industry years ago and is currently working as a train dispatcher for the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Florence Vidor, the serene beauty who once queened it as a Famous Players-Lasky star, has been living quietly in a Pacific Palisades mansion since her divorce from Jascha Heifitz. . . . Elsie Ferguson, a tearing beauty of the silent era, came out of retirement to star in an ill-fated Rose Franken play, "Outrageous Fortune," on Broadway some seasons ago and appeared in summer stock this year.

Dorothy Phillips, star of "Hell Morgan's Girl," circa 1917, is still acting in films and recently played a dowager in Columbia's Judy Holliday starrer, "A Name for Herself." In the same movie, Donald Keith, who was Clara Bow's leading man in "The Plastic Age," has the role of a floor-walker.

Johnny Darrow, who made feminine hearts go pitter-patter, is now a successful Hollywood agent. . . .

Eleanor Boardman, a famous MGM star, is now Mrs. Harry d'Abdie d'Arrast and lives in Spain. Serious illness took her out of films in the early 1930's. . . . Edna Purviance, Charlie Chaplin's blonde leading lady in "Carmen," and star of his "A Woman of Paris," retired from acting years ago and up until the time of Chaplin's departure for Europe, she received a weekly check from him.

BECAME SOCIAL LIONESS

AILEEN PRINGLE, who divorced writer James Cain some years back, has a New York apartment and is a social lioness. . . . Jacqueline Logan, as beautiful a woman as ever hit Hollywood, is married and lives in Bedford, N.Y. When C. B. DeMille won an Oscar for "The Greatest Show on Earth," Jacqueline, who starred in his "King of Kings," wrote him a letter of congratulation.

Tullio Carminati, Grace Moore's leading man in "One Night of Love," makes his first screen appearance in years as the general in "Paramount's "Roman Holiday." . . . Dorothy Jordan, the sweet-faced MGM star of the early '30's, is now Mrs. Marion C. Cooper and makes a comeback as Arleen Whelan's mother in Republic's "The Sun Shines Bright."

Big-eyed Madge Bellamy — remember her in "Mother Knows Best"?—operates an auto court in Ontario, Calif. . . . Ora Carawe, a silent era dazzler, is a beautician at a Sunset Boulevard shop in Hollywod. . . . Anita Stewart, whose last film was "Never the Twain Shall Meet" for MGM in 1925, it a Los Angeles society figure. She has been separated from George Converse for several years.

Laura La Plante, Universal's biggest star and the first Julie in the first film version of "Show Boat," is married to a Paramount producer, Irving Ascher.

Social Security Answers Vital To Your Future

NOTE: Readers are requested to send their questions to Social Security, Questions and Answers, Dixon Evening Telegraph. All questions will be answered individually. No names will be published without the writer's consent.

Question: Are benefits paid automatically upon attainment of age 65 or death?

Answer: No. When an insured person retires, a claim must be filed before any insurance payments are made. It is very important to remember this because the law permits monthly payments to go back for only six months before the month in which the claim is filed. The lump sum can be paid only if a claim is filed within 2 years of the worker's death.

Question: Where are benefit claims filed?

Answer: The place to make claims for insurance payments under old-age and survivors insurance is the nearest social security office. A person 65 or over who has been employed in work covered by social security should go to that office for advice about his insurance status, even though he has not yet retired. A representative of the district office is in the Dixon City Hall Council room every Thursday from 10:00 a. m. to noon.

Question: Does a person have to be in need before he can claim payments?

Answer: No. This is an insurance program. A retired worker, his wife or widow, and usually minor children, may qualify for benefits with regard to their financial resources, such as savings, property, or other insurance. However, husbands, widowers, parents, and sometimes minor children, are required to establish that they had been dependent for at last half their support on the worker on whose record they claim benefits.

What's Right?

When you've cooked the meal yourself and the guests proclaim it perfect—that's the time to take a bow. Thank them graciously. Say you're glad they enjoyed it — and let it go at that. That is no time for explaining that you thought the meat was a little overdone or the pie crust wasn't as flaky as usual.

When others praise you they want your gracious thanks — not your apologies.

The Doctor Says:

Pains of Angina Caused by Restriction of Blood Flow

By EDWIN P. JORDON, M. D.

Each year a considerable number of people for the first time develop symptoms of angina, and naturally become exceedingly curious as to this disorder and what it means for them.

Pain in the chest, often running down the left arm and coming on after exercise like climbing stairs, always raises the suspicion of angina pectoris. Sometimes the pain is severe and sometimes mild. Unless the pain is absent when resting and appears only on exertion, a different cause is more likely.

The coronary arteries carry blood to the heart muscles. Because the heart muscle works so hard, it needs a great deal of blood and any interference with the amount of blood passing through the coronaries brings trouble.

In angina pectoris the coronary arteries do allow some blood to pass through to the heart muscle. However, the passageways are narrowed by deposits of fat-like substances or calcium. Thus, when the heart has to work harder as it does when exercising, the amount of blood going through coronaries is not enough.

At such times the effects of insufficient blood are shown by pain in the chest and often a feeling of anxiety, shortness of breath, and sweating. As a rule these symptoms clear up rather rapidly after the exertion is stopped. At rest the heart does get enough blood. As soon as the rest is begun the heart does not have to do so much work and the blood which it receives through the arteries becomes ample.

Angina pectoris is related to coronary thrombosis, though the two are not the same. In angina pectoris, the interference with passage of blood to the heart muscle is not complete; in a coronary thrombosis, a clot forms inside one of the coronary blood vessels and completely shuts off the passage of blood to some part of the heart.

Symptoms Vary

The symptoms and severity of angina pectoris vary a great deal from person to person. Some have only occasional attacks of pain and find it easy to avoid the exertion which will bring on symptoms. In others, there seems to be a much smaller passageway for the blood and even slight exertion causes pain.

The gloomy future for those who develop angina which was held in the past is no longer justified. With better knowledge of treatgina live a great many years with ment, many of those who have only occasional attacks. If someone with angina stays within the physical limits of his condition a lengthy and contented life is by no means unusual.

Westbrook Pegler

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Herbert Brownell, the attorney general who was Dewey's campaign manager in 1948 and was taken into the cabinet as a member of Dewey's dominant wing of the Republican party, is the one who has put the FBI on a spot in its touchy relations with local police departments and jeopardized its reputation with the public. The FBI has had the benefit of a fine campaign of public relations. Its little household scandals have been suppressed absolutely and the bureau has been glorified as no other American corps except the Marines ever was before.

John Edgar Hoover is sad about this problem. He wrote a long letter for publication, going as far as he could to emphasize the fact that it is butting into cheap little cases of disorderly conduct only, by Brownell's explicit orders. In practically all these cases, the cops have already been vindicated by the local authorities, including county grand juries. But Brownell is making a bid for the votes of "groups" and "minorities" as he has proved by sending subordinates to "racial" conventions to promise "intensified efforts to safeguard civil rights."

Westbrook Pegler

Hoover and other FBI men wince, understandably, at every suggestion that the FBI is overstaffed if it has men to spare on such obviously insincere and cheaply political appeals to "racial" and "religious" hatred. The situation in Chicago is as bad as the New York outrages. If the Department of Justice were a private concern, it could be prosecuted for abuse of legal process. This policy flagrantly flouts legal ethics. Yet, if FBI men are being diverted from anti-Communist duty to persecute city policemen for twisting some fighting drunk's arm to subdue him, it surely follows that the agents assigned to this political duty are not giving any worthwhile service and should be laid off.

Not that my personal feelings matter, I have regretted the necessity to expose this paltry use of an honorable corps for a low purpose. Brownell has assistant attorneys-general with no more useful duty to perform for their salaries and traveling expenses than to spout inflammatory speeches threatening swift punishment to persons who "impose their own brand of justice." This is nothing but an extension of Roosevelt's campaign to incite hatred of the larger public against "groups" with resultant inevitable "incidents" and further needless jobs for the FBI.

Dewey, through Brownell, is stealing Herbert Lehman's stuff for use in Lehman's own bailiwick. For 15 years rotten unions all over the country have been imposing "their own brand of justice." But Brownell and Dewey want the very substantial union campaign money and that is the sole reason why the FBI is not assigned to union violations of civil rights. Not a single union ever has been prosecuted by the Department of Justice for any such crime even unto murder.

In one New York case, two uniformed policemen were badgered and jeopardized by the FBI after they had shown great courage in arresting two men and a woman in a wild scene provoked by one of the men which might have blazed into a terrible race riot. The cops used just enough force to arrest the three, and one of the policemen was badly bitten on the hand by the woman and knocked down by her husband. All three were convicted in a local court, but the FBI nevertheless butted in under Brownell's orders because the prisoners happened to be Negroes.

Hoover has contrived to get two writers friendly to the bureau, as this one also is, to write special articles further pleading his case. He has emphasized his great problem in spying on Communists. This is the bureau's most important concern these days, although for years, under Roosevelt and Truman, its discoveries were suppressed and the Department of Justice purposely ignored material which was obviously grand jury stuff. That is why Eleanor Roosevelt says "Leave it all to the FBI."

It should be said, moreover, to keep the story in balance, that the investigators of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, such men as Matthews, Stripling, Appel, Mandel and Lou Russell, the present chief of the investigating staff, gave the FBI much of its information. This is said not to belittle the FBI but simply to convey an understanding of the immunity of the protected traitors inducted into the government by Roosevelt and Felix Frankfurter. Specifically, I refer to Alger Hiss as a traitor inducted into the government by Frankfurter. Felix may not have known that Hiss was a Communist agent of the Kremlin but the responsibility was his and he was no naive innocent regarding to world Communist system.

It is sometimes argued that city policemen are not intellectual and are abrupt in handling criminals or suspects who may be innocent. That is by no means conceded, but the responsibility is still that of the states, which are the guardians of all the rights of their citizens. Their average performance is good with the flagrant exception of union atrocities against the people.

We know nothing about departmental trials of agents of the FBI. Cops who are accused get loud publicity. And did the FBI use a little too much force in shooting down John Dillinger from ambush as he walked on a public street in a crowd leaving a movie?

No Reason for Children to Follow Edicts of 'Crowd'

"You just can't make your children different." That idea, frequently expressed by parents today, is largely responsible for teen-agers getting the upper hand with their parents.

So long as parents are sold on the idea that it is a crime to make their children different in any way from "the crowd," the crowd is going to run their parents.

They'll demand and get things their parents can't afford by pleading that "all the other kids have such-and-such."

They'll demand and get privileges they aren't old enough to have on the grounds that all the other kids get to stay out until such and such a time or get to drive cars to high school, and so forth.

They'll demand and get to do things their parents know are neither sensible or wise just because the parents are so afraid of making their children "different."

Actually what is so wrong with a child's being different from the crowd, if permitting him to be just like the crowd is detrimental to the child?

Why should you let Sally have something you know you honestly can't afford, simply because she claims that if she doesn't have it she'll be "different?" Wouldn't it make more sense to let her face the fact that all families are different in what they can afford and in what they consider important?

PARENTS LED ASTRAY

Why should you let your teenagers keep hours that you know aren't good for their health because if they have to come home first they'll feel "different?"

When we parents are slaves to the idea that our children mustn't be different we are doing them a grave injustice. For we are encouraging them to believe that they must always do exactly as the crowd does. And we are neglecting the chance to show them that individuality is a precious thing, something to cultivate, rather than to be ashamed of.

There's this to remember, too. If we are too impressed with the idea that our children must not be different, they have a club over our heads. By using it they can make us overrule our better judgment. That can make us weak, when we need to be strong.

Reva Mae Johnson Bride of Melvin Brierton of Navy

The Franklin Grove Presbyterian church was the scene of the early fall wedding of Miss Reva Mae Johnson and William R. Brierton, EMFN U. S. navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brierton, Franklin Grove. The church was beautifully decorated in palms, white gladioli, and lighted candelabra by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith, Franklin Grove.

The Reverend Malcolm D. Ludy of the First Presbyterian church, Dixon, officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 29, in the presence of a host of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Burton Johnson, Bureau Township, sister-in-law of the bride, played a prelude of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Kay Gates, Rockford, when she sang, "O Promise Me," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt at the altar.

To the strains of the traditional wedding march, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Franklin Grove, was escorted to the altar by her father, down an aisle decorated with foliage, gladioli and white satin streamers.

Lace, Tulle Gown

The lovely bridal gown was fashioned of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, designed with a lace yoke outlined with a strand of pearls and Elizabethan collar and basque bodice. The long fitted sleeves tapered into points over the hands. The bouffant, ballerina length skirt with a lace peplum effect was draped and caught up with soft knots. The bride's French illusion finger-tip veil was attached to an illusion queen's crown embroidered with seed pearls. White satin streamers fell from the cascade bridal bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Miss Bertie Lou Pfoutz, Franklin Grove, as maid of honor, and Miss Georgia Smith, Franklin Grove, bridesmaid, wore identical slate blue nylon net ballerina length gowns of formal design with basque bodice draped at the neckline. The bouffant skirts were tiered with ruffles banded with taffeta ribbon. With the gowns they wore fichu stoles and Spanish wine taffeta cloches outlined with pearls. Both atendants carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty rose buds with matching net and satin streamers.

Carries Rose Petals

Young Sue Trottnow, Franklin Grove, as flower girl, wore a gown of Spanish wine nylon net over taffeta. Small white mums and American Beauty satin ribbon formed her headdress. She carried a white basket of rose petals.

Ralph Tompkins, Franklin Grove, dressed in the formal attire of the men in the bridal party, carried the rings on a lace trimmed satin pillow.

Charles Johnson, Franklin Grove, brother of the bride, served as best man, and Donald Colwell, Franklin Grove, attended his close friend as groomsman. Ushering the guests were Burton Johnson, Bureau township, brother of the bride, and Herbert Gerdes, Walnut, a friend of the couple. The bridegroom and his attendants wore formal attire.

Mrs. Johnson chose for her daughter's wedding, a dress of navy blue sheer with white trim and black accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a wine iridescent taffeta dress with black and white accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of tiny white mums.

For Nearly 200

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for nearly 200 guests in the church parlor.

A four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, and encircled with fern and florets of gladioli graced the white linen covered reception table. A pink gladioli arrangement and white candles formed the centerpiece for the bride's table.

Miss Kay Gates, Rockford, cut the wedding cake and Miss Janet Andersen, Bureau township, served the cake. Miss Lou Ann Emmons, Franklin Grove, presided at the silver service and Miss Carolyn Herbst, Franklin Grove, at the punch bowl.

Miss Janey Rex, Franklin Grove, was in charge of the guest book and the Misses Nancy Bray and Janey Laws, Rockford; Mrs. George Leonard, Rochelle; Miss Beverly Watson and Mrs. Clellan Morris, Franklin Grove, arranged the gifts.

Guests from out-of-town were from Sheffield, Princeton, Ottawa, Rockford, Manlius, Wheeling, Bureau township, Walnut, Dixon, Glencoe, Ashton and Chicago.

To Niagara Falls

When the newlyweds left on their two week's wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the new Mrs. Brierton was wearing a silvery blue taffeta dress with a fitted bodice, an Elizabethan collar and a full circular skirt with corded detail. With it she wore the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Franklin Grove high school, attended the Rockford School of Business for two years. She is at present employed at the Barber-Coleman company, Rockford, as a private secretary.

Brierton, also a Franklin Grove high school graduate, has been in the armed services since July, 1952. He is now stationed aboard the USS Orion at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Brierton will join her husband at Norfolk in the near future.

Quick Frosting

Want a quick frosting for the top of the quick mix cake? Baked frostings and toppings are always quickies and tasty. Here's one using chocolate bits and graham crackers.

Combine 1 cup graham crackers (about 16), crushed, with ⅓ cup shortening, dash of salt. Blend well. Then add 1 package of chocolate bits, slightly chopped, and ½ cup chopped nutmeats.

Prepare a white or yellow cake mix batter according to label directions. Turn into correct size pan and sprinkle this topping over all; pat firmly. Bake according to label directions and let cool in pan.

No More Nutritious

Fermented milks don't live up to the extravagant claims some people make for them. They are not, for instance, "more healthful and superior in all respects to the usual forms of milk" as occasional advertising would have us believe.

Milk in all its safe forms (clean and uncontaminated, from disease-free cows) is an excellent food. We can't make milk more nutritious simply by adding microorganisms and causing it to sour and change flavor, texture and consistency.

The soured or fermented milks—yogurt, buttermilk, acidophilus milk and others—are prepared from cows' milk, whole or skim. Their nutritive value will be practically the same as the milks from which they were prepared—but no greater.

Nutritionists have found that it makes no difference whether we use fluid milk or other forms or products of milk, so long as our diet includes enough to supply our daily needs for calcium, riboflavin and protein.

It is usually agreed that grown-ups need 2½ to 3 cups of fluid milk each day to meet their nutritional needs. If fermented milks are used instead of sweet milk, then 2½ to 3 cupsful will be necessary if no other forms of milk are used.

Many people enjoy the acid flavor and pleasant aroma of the fermented milks. Their use in ordinary amounts is not likely to be harmful. But persons who have normal digestive capacity and normal acid secretion do not need fermented milks.

Tile Floors Need Special Care

Tile floors take to gentle treatment. Shampoo rather than scrub them. Use a small amount of water, and dry the floor as fast as it is washed. A mild detergent or a cleaner recommended by the tile manufacturer is best. Never use gasoline, benzine, naphtha, turpentine or organic solvents. They sometimes soften the surface and may cause permanent discolorations.

Because of the composition of asphalt, rubber and cork tile floors, vigorous and abrasive scrubbing is not desirable.

Use a water-emulsion or self-polishing type of wax if you want to wax your tile floor. Don't use waxes that contain oil, grease or solvents, such as naphtha or turpentine.

New asphalt tile floors should not be washed for at least two weeks after they are installed. Rubber and cork tile floors should not be washed for four or five days. This is to allow the adhesive used in laying the floor to set thoroughly.

For daily care, a soft-bristled push broom or a clean, dry mop is best. Never use oil mops, as they leave an oily film that catches dirt and dust.

Don't substitute powdered spices for whole spices in your pickle recipes. Whole spices keep their flavor longer and have less tendency to discolor the pickles. Put the whole spices in a cloth to cook with the other ingredients. Use a piece of thin cloth large enough to allow the juices to circulate through the spices and draw out the flavor. Take the spices out before you put pickles into the jar.

Lee County Polio Funds Exhausted; Seek More Aid

The Lee county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will have to ask for additional funds from the national organization to take care of polio case expenses in the county.

According to Edward Jones, chairman of the local chapter, funds for polio cases this year in Lee county have been exhausted.

Jones said unless additional funds are obtained from the national foundation, the county faces a serious situation.

While the national foundation's funds also have been exhausted, Jones said money is being sent to headquarters from chapters not hit hard by the instance of polio.

Jones said of the 25 cases last year, 14 are still being taken care of by the Lee county chapter. To that have been added 20 new cases this year, all of which are handled by the local organization, except two.

About $12,400 have been expended for the care of this year's patients. While the county raised $10,500 this year for the polio fund forwarding $5,100 to the national foundation, $5,200 has been returned to meet county needs.

The next polio fund drive will be during January. Jones said any additional contributions to the polio fund will be appreciated. He also urged that those able to carry polio insurance do so, helping relieve the burden.

Demos May Ask Repeal Of T-H Act

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Murray (D-Mont) said today a new drive for outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act may be the Democrats' answer to Eisenhower administration discord over labor policies.

Murray, top Democrat on the senate labor committee, said in an interview he intends to sponsor a repealer in the next session of congress and to make the matter an issue in next year's congressional campaign.

"Secretary of Labor Durkin's resignation indicates very clearly that any Taft-Hartley amendments the Republicans offer are not going to be the kind promised by President Eisenhower in last year's campaign which would be sympathetic with the workers' program," Murray said.

"The entire act ought to be repealed and I intend to move in that direction."

Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) of the senate labor committee expressed regret and surprise over Durkin's resignation Thursday. Smith said in a telephoned statement he had "understood that conversations would continue to the end that a labor program might be developed and legislation prepared for introduction in congress early in January."

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), another labor committee member, said he regards Durkin's resignation as indicating that the Eisenhower administration is "not going to come up with any modification of the Taft-Hartley Act that will satisfy labor."

Durkin, a Democrat, quit the cabinet to return to his post as president of the AFL plumbers and steamfitters union, saying White House aides had broken an agreement with him to put the administration's support behind 19 proposed Taft-Hartley law changes.

In Philadelphia yesterday Chairman McConnell (R-Pa) of the house labor committee said he knew of no basis for Durkin's assertion that the White House had promised support for 19 changes in the Taft-Hartley law.

McConnell also asserted the proposed draft was "not final." He said all but two of the 19 points had been discussed with White House representatives Gerald Morgan and Bernard Shanley, Secretary of Commerce Weeks, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Sen. Smith and Durkin.

Billy the Goat Spurs Legion Member Drive

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Billy the goat is helping the Decatur Post of the American Legion increase its membership.

During the post's membership drive Billy becomes the unwanted property of a present member until he signs up three new members.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles Peebles towed the goat around Friday until he got his new members. Traffic patrolman Virgil Carr got the goat.

Carr, a sharp kid himself, had been tipped off and turned up with his recruits. The last reported goat tender was County Judge Gus Greanias. Billy was anchored to a table in the judge's law library, but the judge was not available for comment.

City Health Commissioner Cody Holmes, who had the goat a few days ago, pointed out it was illegal to raise goats within Decatur city limits.

So far no arrests have been reported.

Charges Big Business Plugs For Sales Tax

The Cleveland labor leader, in a statement to newsmen said "Big Business and Wall Street are trying to maneuver Congress and the administration into imposing a national sales tax."

He said "these interests" are trying to show President Eisenhower they can raise a sales tax. . . then they can get rid of corporate taxes and the excess - profits tax."

Kennedy is in Decatur to address the Illinois joint meeting of the state brotherhood and auxiliary Saturday.

Desk Officer Will Command Korean Troops

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Gen. John E. Hull, a desk officer for much of his 36-year military career, leaves the Pentagon soon to command troops along the uneasy truce line in Korea.

The tall, strapping Ohioan was named by President Eisenhower Friday to succeed Gen. Mark Clark as supreme United Nations commander in the Far East. Clark retires Oct. 30.

Hull, now 58, has not seen combat since World War I when, as a junior infantry officer, he won the Silver Star for gallantry during the Aisne-Marne offensive.

His World War II years were spent in the less dramatic but vital jobs of handling operations for all the far flung overseas theaters. He worked closely in this work with Gen. George C. Marshall, then Army chief of staff.

Hull became something of an expert on atomic weapons five years ago when he had charge of atom bomb tests conducted at Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific.

He also is given credit for playing an important role in the development of the Army's giant atomic cannon, one of the world's newest and most potent weapons.

For the past two years, Hull has been vice chief of staff of the Army.

Haymes Divorce Hearing Is Set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nora Eddington's suit for divorce from Dick Haymes has been set for Sept. 18 in Superior Court here.

The date was fixed Friday after the court was advised that the crooner plans to obtain a Nevada divorce Sept. 21 and marry Rita Hayworth the same day.

Mrs. Haymes filed her complaint last Aug. 22, charging cruelty. Previously she and Haymes had agreed upon a property settlement granting her $8,000 in cash and $100 weekly alimony. Nora, once the wife of Errol Flynn, married Haymes in 1949.

Nevada divorces are final when the decree is granted. California divorces are final a year later. Mrs. Haymes insisted that her California hearing be held first, and Haymes agreed.

The wide-eyed star of the popular "I Love Lucy" show freely admitted to committee investigator William Wheeler that she registered March 19, 1936, to vote for the Communist ticket "because Grandpa wanted all of us to."

Denies Tieup

But she emphatically denied ever being a party member or voting for party candidates.

"There is no evidence that Miss Ball is or ever was a party member, "Rep. Donald J. Jackson (R-Calif.), committee member, told a news conference Friday night.

Jackson explained he called the conference at the behest of a majority of committee members so that rumors implicating Miss Ball, 42 with communism could be scotched.

If the rumors hadn't become widespread, he added, it is unlikely the committee would have made the disclosures, since it had known for several years of Miss Ball's registration.

Jackson said that there is some question as to whether Miss Ball ever voted the Communist ticket, but added that this point will be cleared up today with the release of the transcript of her testimony before Wheeler.

The same time she registered, Jackson said, she signed a nominating petition for Emil Freed, Communist party candidate for the 57th California Assembly District. He said this also was at the request of her grandfather, Fred C. Hunt, now deceased, and who, the actress said, made the political decisions in the family.

The actress was quoted by Jackson as saying that in addition to herself, her mother, Mrs. Desiree Ball, and brother, Fred H. Ball, all registered to vote Communist in 1936.

Miss Ball's registration lapsed two years later, records showed, because she failed to vote in 1938.

Jackson said Freed appointed Miss Ball a member of the state central committee of the Communist party, but added that Miss Ball denied having authorized him to do so.

Confirm Story

Testimony of Communist party members of the 1930s corroborated Miss Ball's statements, Jackson said. He said they testified they never saw her at a party meeting of any sort.

Informed of Jackson's statements, Miss Ball, filming one of her shows for later release, said last night, "Oh my, I'm so happy. I found out today who all my friends are."

Television officials said she had received hundreds of telegrams from well wishers.

Her husband and co-star, Desi Arnaz, signed an eight-million dollar contract this year to produce the program 2½ more years.

Arnaz said, "Lucy has always had a clear conscience about this. She has never been a Communist and what's more she hates every Communist in Hollywood.

"Her grandfather was a character out of 'You Can't Take It With You'," said Arnaz.

Cigaret Firm Sued for Fake Tax Stamps

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The city is seeking $675,000 damages from a cigaret distributing firm for allegedly using counterfeit city cigaret tax stamps.

Samuel H. Liberman, city counselor, filed suit in circuit court Friday naming the Twin City Distributing Co. and four operators — Anthony Lopiraro, Anthony Giardano, Ralph Caleca and Rocco Vitale — as defendants.

The suit seeks $425,000 as actual damages and $250,000 punitive damages.

President Judge William H. Killoren immediately ordered $425,000 of the firm's property attached for the duration of litigation. Police were assigned to guard the property.

Liberman called the action the climax to an investigation into a scheme that has been robbing the city of hundreds of thousands of dollars in revenue annually.

He said criminal action will be taken in city court early next week. Under the city ordinance fixing the tax at 2 cents a pack of cigarets, the maximum punishment for violation — a misdemeanor — is a $500 fine and a year in the workhouse.

Liberman said, however, that each pack of cigarets involved can be a separate case.

In his circuit court petition he accused the firm and the four individuals with avoiding $425,000 in taxes since Jan. 1, 1952.

The defendants could not be located for comment.

Johnson Admits He Set Fire in Rockford Shop

Ralph A. Johnson, 29, a former Dixon State school employe, admitted Friday night to Rockford police that he set a fire which swept the city water works shop and office in downtown Rockford early Tuesday morning.

In the statement police said he also admitted calling Rockford police asking authorities to "stop me before I start anymore."

The blaze was one of 10 reported in Rockford late Monday and early Tuesday.

Johnson, a native of DeKalb, was employed for about three weeks at the Dixon State School as a farm hand in 1952.

He was asked to resign from the Dixon State school Aug. 5, 1952, having been employed July 14, 1952, to supervise patients on the farm and operate farm machinery.

Johnson was asked to resign when it was learned he had a prison record. Police said he was convicted in October, 1947 in DeKalb County Circuit Court of setting three fires in that county in one night.

Lucille Ball Weeps as She Faces Audience

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — It was the most hectic day of her life for Lucille Ball but as TV's Lucy, she was never funnier.

The top-ranking comedienne refused to call off her television show Friday night although some of her associates uregd her to. The show is filmed before a live studio audience for later release.

Before the show got under way, husband Desi Arnaz addressed the studio audience of 300:

"I want to talk to you about something serious . . . Lucy has never been a Communist—not now —and never will be."

The audience, composed of fellow workers and outsiders, let loose with a burst of applause that lasted a full minute.

"I was kicked out of Cuba," Arnaz continued, "because of communism. We despise everything about it. Lucy is as American as Barney Baruch and Ike Eisenhower."

The studio audience cheered Lucy as she appeared. Tears were in the eyes of both Lucy and Desi as they acknowledged the applause.

As the show progressed, Lucy cavorted as always.

As the show wound up, she addressed the audience simply:

"Good bless you for being so kind."

Labor Department Aide Indicted for Forgery of Checks

PEORIA, Ill. — (AP) —A Peoria County grand jury has indicted Joseph Hodges, assistant state director of labor and Peoria County Republican chairman on charges of forgery in the cashing of four city payroll checks totaling $187.

Also indicted Friday were Arthur Eddy and Paul Duffy, both of Peoria.

The alleged forgeries took place in 1947 and 1948 when Hodges was Peoria street superintendent. Eddy was assistant superintendent and Duffy a department laborer.

State Atty. James P. Kellstedt said Duffy forged endorsements on the checks, made out to two other department employes. Hodges and Eddy were accessories, he said.

Braves Won't Let Dodgers Celebrate

Pafko Hits Homer for 9-8 Win

Cubs Win Seventh Straight for First Time in 7 Years

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The handwriting is on the wall, but all of a sudden the Milwaukee Braves can't read.

The stubborn Braves still seem to be operating on the theory that the National League pennant race is a two-team affair. And they're ready to smack down any one who says it isn't.

Brooklyn's dashing Dodgers descended upon the brewing center Friday primed to wrap up their second straight flag. They needed just one more victory. The celebration was arranged and the brass flew in from Brooklyn headquarters for the whing-ding. They're still waiting for the party.

Only Money

Out at Milwaukee's County Stadium Friday night one Andy Pafko made the Dodgers realize that $50,000 was only money. He hit a home run with a man on base in the sixth inning and he won the game for the Braves with a 10th inning home after two were out. The score was 9-8.

With 13 games to play the Braves now trail the Dodgers by 12. They meet for the final time today.

Pafko was sold by Brooklyn to the Braves for $50,000 during the winter and the Dodger officials went to great pains to advise the fans that Pafko was no longer necessary. Since his departure Brooklyn has used almost everybody on the roster in left field.

Top Clubs Lose

In the American League the two top teams both lost. The New York Yankees bowed to Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings and Cleveland lost to Washington 6-4. Chicago kept its mathematical pennant chances alive with a 9-4 verdict over Philadelphia.

The Yankees lead the Indians by 10 games and the White Sox by 13. Any combination of six New York victories and Cleveland losses will give the Yankees their fifth straight pennant.

In other games Friday the St. Louis Cardinals assured Pittsburgh of a last place finish with a 5-3 decision, Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 6-5 and Chicago won its seventh straight, 5-2, over the New York Giants. The lowly St. Louis Browns stopped Boston 2-0.

Cubs Win 7th

Virgil Trucks of the White Sox hung up his 19th victory and aided his own cause at Philadelphia by driving in three runs, two of them on a home run.

The Cubs pounded New York pitching for 11 hits and Bob Rush held the Giants to four safeties. The Cubs hadn't won seven in a row in seven years.

They Seek to Keep Crown

They Seek to Take Crown

Browns Nip Bears Rally; Win, 20-14

O'Connell Pitches To One T. D.; Sets Up Second in 4th

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears scored twice in the last period in a rally fired by rookie quarterback Tommy O'Connell, but the Cleveland Browns' lead was too great and they won the National Football league exhibition, 20-14.

The game Friday night was played at Soldier Field before a rain-drenched crowd of 36,796. It was the fifth defeat the Browns have handed the Bears in as many meetings since joining the NFL. It was the Bears' fourth loss in five exhibition starts this season.

Graham Scores

The Browns struck midway in the first period. Ray Renfro took a 63-yard Bear punt and raced 27 yards to the Browns' 17. Quarterback Otto Graham then pitched 21 yards to end Dante Lavelli and then Harry Jagade took over.

The bruising fullback drove to the four, picking up 28 yards in three plays. Ken Carpenter plunged to the one and Graham scored on a quarterback sneak. Lou Groza converted.

Intercept Pass

The Bears, mainly on the passing of quarterback George Blanda, moved to the Cleveland four in the second period, but another Blanda pass was intercepted by Walt Michaels who ran 85 yards to the Bear 11. The Browns' drive bogged down and Groza booted a 14-yard field goal.

With less than two minutes left in the half, Jagade ripped up the middle for 24 yards and a touchdown. Groza converted.

Stone Scores

In the third period, Groza added a 13 yard field goal.

The Bears, led by O'Connell's passes, scored twice in the fourth.

Billy Stone rounded end for five yards and a touchdown. Bill George converted.

O'Connell capped an 80 yard drive with a 53-yard touchdown pass to Jim Dooley. George again converted.

Michigan State, Ohio State Share Big Ten Favorites Role

Wisconsin, Purdue, Minnesota, Michigan May Cause Trouble

(One of a series)
By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—A crushing new contender, Michigan State which topped the AP's 1952 national poll, and well-manned Ohio State share pre-season favoritism in the Big Ten football race.

It goes without saying, the return of two-way football will keep the coaching noses to the grindstone and mayhaps snarl the chase.

Although Michigan State with 24 straight victories and two successive national titles was voted into the Big Ten on Dec. 13, 1948, it took a five-year span to work the Spartans into the league football schedule.

Hotter Than Ever

Some think the tardiness could have been an effort by conference coaches to wait for MSC to cool off.

But the Spartans are hotter than ever.

This is the year, then, Biggie Munn's MSC gridders take up the void created when the University of Chicago, swooned into oblivion after the 1939 season.

Actually, the 1953 title doesn't shape-up as a cake-walk for the Spartans and Ohio's Buckeyes, who have the two best returning quarter-backs—Tom Yewic and Johnny Borton.

May Snarl

Last year's co-champions, Rose Bowl-visiting Wisconsin and Purdue, may snarl plenty and ever-ready Michigan and Minnesota — primed by superb Paul Giel — could rock the conference boat into complete confusion.

Illinois, Northwestern, Iowa and Indiana figure to straggle.

Some cynical conference hardbacks say that Michigan State, feasting on a hand-picked schedule since zooming into big time, may find a steady diet of Big Ten opposition a different kettle of fish.

24 Lettermen

The Spartans, who have a splendid pony backfield including Yewcic, Leroy Bolden, Billy Wells and Evan Slonac, encounter Iowa, Minnesota, Indiana, Purdue, Ohio State and Michigan in a six-game league slate.

Ohio State Buckeyes, who face Michigan State Nov. 7 at Columbus, have 24 lettermen returning, but only three seniors are on the first team.

Despite the perennial local enthusiasm that launches an Ohio State team, quarterback Borton—a splendid passers and field general — may have to rely upon a standout defensive array to offset a running attack.

Six Coaches

It should be pointed out that since 1940, the last time a conference coaching staff returned intact, Ohio State has had six different head coaches. Woody Hayes is starting his third season at the Buckeye helm. His followers expect much this fall.

Wisconsin, a 7-0 loser to Southern California in the Rose Bowl, suffered a sharp blow when quarterback Jim Haluska broke a leg this summer. But the Badgers still have fullback Alan (The Horse) Ameche.

Illini Rebuild

Purdue's coach, Stu Holcomb, says his Boilermakers are as good as last season, despite the loss of quarterback Dale Samuels and end Bernie Flowers Minnesota has 31 lettermen, including All-America halfback Giel, and the Gophers are hungry.

Michigan has a fleet backfield and can be dangerous if sophomore quarterback Lou Balddacci takes hold. Illinois must replace quarterback Tommy O'Connell, who re-wrote the Big Ten passing record book last season, and faces a general rebuilding job. Indiana needs terrific help from sophomores to make a showing, while Iowa also must rely on newcomers to aid such fine backs as Dusty Rice and Binkey Broeder.

Northwestern has a "pony" backfield behind a fair line. The Wildcats may do all right——as long as they hang onto the ball.

Indiana Captain Played 2 Seasons Blind in Left Eye

The 170-pound senior end from Monongahela, Pa., was blinded in the eye by falling on a stick when he was three years old.

Few Knew

Only a few close friends on the campus knew about it and they kept the secret when he was a regular defensive end in 1950 and 1951 seasons. He was being groomed for offense, too, this year under the limited substitution rule.

A pre-season practice injury kept him from playing last fall but he was so well liked by teammates that they elected him 1953 captain.

He will undergo an operation Monday for removal of a kidney. Physicians said the ailment was a chronic condition and existed before Inserra was hurt last fall.

Got Along

Inserra said his blind eye "hurt on passes over my left shoulder because I couldn't see past my nose. I had to turn clear around to receive them.

"It also was tough on defense when they had a flanker out on my side. Sometimes, he would cut in and block me out without my seeing him."

"But," Inserra grinned, "I was able to get along pretty well."

Vic Seixas, Tony Trabert Crush Canadian Net Hopes

MONTREAL (AP)—Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas try to finish together today a job they started separately Friday—that is, defeat of Canada in the American zone final of the Davis Cup tennis competition.

They team in doubles against Lorne Main and Paul Willey, two 23-year old dominion aces, needing only this victory to assure Uncle Sam's forces another trip to Australia this winter.

A doubles triumph will clinch the series for the Americans and qualify them to play Belgium, the European winner, in the interzone finals preceding the December challenge round at Melbourne.

Trabert and Seixas are favored to sweep past their rivals in straight sets, just as they did in opening singles assignments Friday to give the United States a commanding 2-0 lead.

Trabert, the recently crowned National champion from Cincinnati didn't play his best tennis but nevertheless conquered Henri Rochon, 29-year-old cup veteran from Montreal, 6-2, 6-3, 8-6. Seixas, holder of the Wimbledon crown, crushed Main, Canada's top-ranking player, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4. Vic was razor sharp.

Fiore Defeats Dan Womber

NEW YORK — (AP) — It broke his heart to give up softball but Carmine Fiore feels the sacrifice was worth it today as he celebrated his fourth straight boxing victory.

The 24-year-old Brooklyn welterweight racked up No. 4 Friday night by outpointing Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago with a strong finish in a ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

It used to be the other way around for Carmine, a one-time shoe shine boy. Fiore generally fizzled out in the late rounds.

His doctor learned that Fiore was playing softball almost every day. He told the fighter that the ball-playing plus fight training was sapping his strength.

So Fiore gave up his pet sport and started winning.

He swept the last three rounds from Womber and that was it as all three officials voted for the 9-5 underdog by similiar 5-4-1 margins. Fiore, who was outweighed 146 to 148, matched his left hook against Womber's left jabs and combinations and won out.

The Luzerne, Pa., native who is now fighting out of Cleveland took a unanimous decision from Lombardo a year ago after being knocked down for an eight count.

Castellani stopped Jackie Keough in his last appearance to register his eighth knockout and 44th victory in 51 starts.

Lombardo has a record of 29 triumphs in 38 fights, 14 by knockouts.

Tonight's 10-rounder will be televised nationally.

Sports Quiz — What's Th' Score

by Norm Sollow

WITH LESS THAN A WEEK separating the Dixon Dukes football team and its first game, Coach Don Barnhart is beginning to line up his starting offensive and defensive line-ups.

FOR THE MOST PART, there will be only one team. Barnhart has tentatively listed only two players on the defensive club, not already on offense.

Probably the biggest battle being waged is that at tackle, offensively, where Pete Wolfe and Ron Dockery are fighting for one slot. Dan Clbu seems to have sewn up the other position.

Merle Pittman and Bob Brunett are currently sharing the quarterbacking chores with Pittman, a senior letterman, having what appears to be a slight edge.

MAX AKERMAN, A SOPHOMORE, is in the thick of battle trying to wrest a backfield slot from Kay Draper, Pete Schuler or Bob Brady. Although small, Akerman showed some good drive as a ball toter yesterday.

THE REST OF THE TEAM looks pretty well set with Dewey Burke and Tom Hufford at the ends, Jim Collins and Bob Willard at guard and Ron French at center. Jerry Curran is a competitor for French's spot.

* * * *

Barnhart is working Bob Ashford, a fullback last year, into a defensive guard slot and John Perry in a defensive halfback. However, Perry has an injured wrist and has not been able to take an active part in practice lately. Willard put in a little time at the defensive half spot yesterday and then moved back into the line.

THE FIRST TEAM SEEMS to be well ahead of the second squad at this stage of the game and during yesterday's scrimmage, was pretty much able to roll at will. Defensively they held the second team to nearly a standstill.

KAY DRAPER, last year's most valuable player, doesn't seem to have lost his touch as a broken field runner. On the first offensive play, he he toted the ball around right end, picked up good interference and went 30 yards before the sleeve of his shirt was all but torn off.

The Dukes show strength in blocking for running plays, but found trouble protecting the passer as several times the passer was tumbled before he could get the ball away.

SLUGGING AGAINST TOUGHEST PITCHER—Ronnie Sundermann, 12, Stamford, Conn., Little League star, who is battling for his life against cancer, steps to the plate as a pinch hitter the day before he was scheduled to leave for Texas cancer clinic. He'll be taking with him his proudest possession—his uniform which has been given to him permanently. (AP wirephoto)

GETS 281 TRANSFUSIONS—Seventeen-year-old John Golter, who received a record number of 281 blood transfusions during an 11-month stay at a Boston hospital, smiles as he prepares to leave for his Portsmouth, N. H., home. Golter, injured in a motorcycle accident last October, is a hemophiliac—a person whose blood will not clot—doctors explained. Even the smallest cut may cause such a person to bleed to death, doctors stated, yet Golter survived a leg amputation and just about every possible complication. He is the second known "bleeder" in medical history to survive an amputation. (AP wirephoto)

Scratch Two

MICHIGAMME, Mich. — (AP) — Sportsmen scratched a deer and a bear today from their list of targets for the 1953 hunting season.

The deer tried to race across railroad tracks ahead of a speeding train. He didn't make it.

A bear, feasting on the deer's carcass, refused a short while later to give the right-of-way to another train. He will not be around to get shot at, either.

He'll Learn Big Times Can Try Souls of Little Men

By HAL BOYLE

HOMETOWN, U. S. A. —(AP)—It was one of those big times that try little men's souls.

For weeks junior had bravely bragged to old Mrs. Kindly, the neighbor next door, "Well, I won't be able to come over and play with you and Freckles so much anymore. You know I'm starting in kinnergarden."

And Mrs. Kindly would say, "Oh, dear, WE'LL MISS YOU SO." And Freckles, her cocker spaniel, would look sad, and junior would trot back home feeling very, very important.

But now it was D-day, when kindergarten actually opened, and as H-hour itself approached junior didn't feel important at all. He felt lonely and lost, and more of his courage oozed away each moment.

"Please, mama, I don't want to go to school," he pleaded desperately as his mother, Mrs. Frank Granber, helped him into his new suit.

"Why not?"

What's the Use

"What good will it do me?" he asked. "I can't even read or write."

But he rode, a stunned and stricken captive, with her to school.

When she returned a few hours later she was met not by a small boy but a little man. Junior clambered confidently into the front seat, then turned and waved at a little red-haired girl running toward another car:

"G'by, Elsie. See ya t'morrow."

"Who is Elsie, Lambie?" asked Mrs. Granber.

"She's my sweetheart. And don't call me Lambie."

"She's your what?"

"My sweetheart. Some boy pushed her, so I pushed him, so she said we must be sweethearts, as only sweethearts save each other from mean people. So I said I didn't mind, and she put this ring on my finger and said I was to wear it forever an' ever."

He held up a finger with a cigar band on it.

When they reached their house, they saw old Mrs. Kindly waiting on her front porch. Mrs. Kindly asked how he had done his first day in school.

Chicken Tracks Row

"Swell," he bragged. "I'm in the chicken tracks row awready. The teacher had us all try to write the first letter of the alaphrabet—that's 'A'—and when she saw mine she said, well, well, I guess I'd better you in the chicken tracks row. Elsie's in the chicken tracks row, too."

"Now isn't that nice, dear," laughed Mrs. Kindly, squeezing him. "Why, in another year you'll both know all 26 letters of the alphabet, and be ready to go to college."

"Twenty-six letters in the alphra - bet!" said junior stunned.

"And after kinner-garden me and Elsie will have to go to college?"

After dinner he became moodily silent. Then he stuffed his cowboy suit and a toy pistol in a small bag.

"What're you planning to do with the bag, son?" His father asked.

"Take it to kinner-garden t'morrow, daddy."

"You don't need a cowboy suit there. Now tell daddy the truth, son."

"Promise you won't tell mama?"

Okay, I promise."

Gonna Get Married

"Well, after school t'morrow me and Elsie are gonna run away and get married and go out west and be cowboys."

"Daddy, can I borroy a dollar from you? Elsie might get hungry and want a san'wich."

"We-e-l-ll, I guess I can spare you a buck. Here it is. Now go on to sleep. Your bag is packed, good night son. I'll turn out the light."

"When her husband came out and closed the door behind him, Mrs. Granber demanded, "Have youn gone stark crazy? — giving that child, a mere baby, money to elope with?"

"Oh, I think little Elsie will give him a quick brushoff tomorrow, said Frank tolerantly.

"But suppose she doesn't. How can you tell what children will do?"

"Well, even if she decides to go west with junior, I have an idea that you and Elsie's mother will be right on hand to break up the trip – and probably the romance."

"But, Frank——"

"Listen, you let junior tote that bag to school tomorrow," said her husband. "He'll learn more he needs to know about women in these two days that I did in 25 years. We sent him to kindergarten to get an education, didn't we? Well, let the boy learn."

Railroad Phones Okayed by State Commerce Group

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Commerce Commission today approved a plan by Illinois Bell Telephone Co. for telephone service on passenger trains.

Any railroad operating in Bell's territory in Illinois can apply for service from passenger trains to any part of the country.

The installation charge will be $125 and the monthly rate $50. Passengers will pay for calls through coin boxes at regular message unit rates. Long distance calls may be reversed.

The commission said the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads have been using this service on an experimental basis for several years.

Senate Bachelor Will Walk Aisle

NEWPORT, R. I.—(AP)—One of the U. S. Senate's most eligible bachelors and a socialite former newspaperwoman will be married today in the highlight of the Newport social season.

U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Miss Jacqueline Lee Bouvier, former inquiring photographer from the Washington Times-Herald, will walk down the aisle of the century old St. Mary's church.

The ceremony will be performed by Roman Catholic Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston who will celebrate the nuptial mass.

Leaders of society, politics, business and the entertainment world have been invited to attend the ceremony in the little church which seats only 600.

Million-Dollar Account Short Just One Penny

WEST SENECA, N. Y. (AP)— A one-cent check has balanced the million-dollar tax account of this town near Buffalo.

William H. Wershin, the receiver of taxes, wrote the check to correct a shortage in his $1,233,354.84 collections.

County Treasurer Frank A. Slade had informed him his returns showed only $1,233,354.83.

For 24 years, Wershin had balanced his books to the penny.

He mailed Slade the one-cent check, using a three-cent stamp.

Scientists Study Solar Energy Plans

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Thirty five of the world's top researchers on solar energy convened here today to "dream up" new approaches toward harnessing the sun for home and industrial heat and power.

The "sun men"—and one "sun woman"—will attempt to outline areas of further research best designed to allow future generations to tap the sun for such energy when "limited" sources of coal, gas and oil are exhausted. Up to now "nothing of substantial promise" in that field has been turned up, one of the conference officials said.

The conference announcement said nothing about future prospects for getting power from atomic fuels, but Dr. Farrington Daniels of the University of Wisconsin, who is chairman of the conference committee, declared in a speech earlier this week that research on utilization of solar energy is needed because "the sun will still be going strong when all our chemical and nuclear fuels are exhausted."

'Dust Bomb' Not In Plans, Claim

TUCSON, Ariz.—(AP)—Secret atomic research conducted here for 2½ years involves "the absorption of radioactive elements by plants," University of Arizona scientist in charge says.

Earlier, newsmen had quoted Dr. Wallace H. Fuller as indicating his work on radioactive strontium might be used to produce a powerful "dust bomb" that might cripple food supplies for a nation.

But Fuller later issued a statement which said:

"As far as I know the dust bomb is nonexistent and no dust bomb has ever been planned or produced."

He has been working under contract to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Await Choice Of Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The Miss America hopefuls went into the last day of the week-long contest today, as nervous as 52 bridesmaids waiting for someone to throw them a bouquet.

With the preliminaries over, the girls will wait out the day until the final judging tonight, when the finalists will be named and the elimination progresses until the winner of the $50,000 title is chosen.

Veep Bows to President on Golf Course

DENVER (AP)— President Eisenhower had just defeated Vice President Nixon on the golf course, but Nixon was as happy as a school boy about his score.

"I did manage to break 100 for the 18 holes," said Nixon, who took up the game for the first time only about eight months ago.

The vice president declined to disclose his precise score or that of the President, who is a veteran golfer.

"I am going to tell you only this—the President had a lower score than I did," Nixon said after their round Friday at Denver's Cherry Hills Country club.

Nixon is here for a round of conferences with the vacationing President. The vice president will leave the United States Oct. 5 on a 70-day tour of the Far East.

St. Louis Shaken by Earthquake

ST. LOUIS (AP)— A minor earthquake rumbled in the St. Louis area Friday causing widespread alarm among residents but only minor damage.

Windows rattled, dishes shook and canned goods fell from grocery shelves. A few cases of cracks in plaster were reported.

St. Louis university reported a "very minor earthquake lasting a very few seconds."

School officials estimated the center of the disturbance near Cahokia Creek, three miles west of Edwardsville, Ill., and anywhere from five to 15 miles below the surface.

Delay Assault Hearing When Actress Ill

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif.—(AP)—A preliminary hearing for millionaire Adolph Spreckels II, charged with felonious assault upon his former wife, was in recess today.

The case was continued until Wednesday when actress Kay Williams nearly collapsed and a brain specialist testified that the strain of the hearing threatened her health.

Miss Williams, 36, charges that her ex-husband beat her during a quarrel at his balboa Island home last Aug. 19. During her testimony yesterday she said suddenly:

"I think I'm going to faint. I can't even hear the question."

The state plans to present next week the result of tests made upon a shoe to determine if it is bloodstained. Miss Williams testified Spreckels took the shoe off her foot and beat her with it.

Furnishings of Famous Felt Mansion in Galena To Be Sold

GALENA, Ill. (AP) — The antique furnishings of a famous mansion where two presidents were entertained will be sold at auction Thursday, ending an era for the historic city of Galena.

For four generations, the 16 room home of Miss Anna E. Felt was a center of gracious living and refined entertainment in the tradition of the last century.

But Miss Felt, the last survivor of a prominent family, died June 13 at 93.

Her prized possessions and antique furniture soon will be removed from the big house where Ulysses S. Grant and Theodore Roosevelt were guests.

The Felt home has overlooked Galena and the Galena River, in Northwestern Illinois, almost from the founding of the community — once a thriving gateway to the Northwest.

The house itself is expected to be sold after its contents are auctioned.

Thousands of Midwesterners have visited the Felt home during the last three years. It has been opened to the public each September, along with other historic Galena landmarks.
